

As a stay at home mom as my husband's 50th birthday approaches I thought what better way to get back to the gal I was at our wedding than to join the live healthy america challenge. What a great gift it will be to give my husband but even better for the whole family. It's a win, win, win situation.